I am a full-stack software developer with 7+ years of experience in web application development. My core expertise is frontend engineering in JavaScript/TypeScript (React) with a strong focus on UI/UX and TDD. I also bring solid backend experience with Node.js, including REST/GraphQL API design, data flow implementation, and CI/CD practices.

Throughout my career, I have contributed to a wide range of projects, from holiday rental and news platforms to financial data tools, with occasional exposure to SaaS. I also gained some experience in client relations and in helping organize tasks within a small development team, using GitHub Projects. My academic background in economics and market research further supports me in understanding business perspectives and user needs.

I am looking for opportunities to further develop my skills. While my frontend expertise is well established, I want to strengthen my backend experience and work on larger, scalable, cloud-based projects. I am also keen to stay up to date with AI-driven tools that seem to be shaping the future of software industry.
